When the fire bell sounds and the fire companies go racing to a fire, the man who can say "I'm well insured" has a sense of security that the other man who carries his own risks knows nothing about. Good insurance adds to the comfort of your sleep at night, and takes a worry from your day thoughts. I represent the very cream of insurance companies. Let me fix you up a policy that protects.

NEGRO LYNCHED AT TYLER

Four Thousand People Stormed Tyler Jail and Swung Negro Fiend at 12:00 O'clock Noon.

(Herald Special.)

Tyler, Texas, May 1.—Today has been an exciting one in Tyler, culminating at 12 o'clock in the lynching of a negro named Hodges. The negro brutally attacked and beat into insensibility Miss Winnie Harmon, a white girl some eighteen years of age near this city last night at 8 o'clock, and made his escape. A posse was at once organized and arrested the negro later. He was brought to the city and lodged in jail. In the meantime the people had become thoroughly aroused and were in bad humor when the news of the arrest was made public. The mob began to gather and organize and pretty soon a mob estimated at four thousand people were marching on the jail. The jail was stormed, the officers being helpless in the face of such a determined lot of men. The negro was secured and hurriedly taken to the center of the public square, where the splendid Smith county court house is being erected. A rope was swung around his neck and the other end of it thrown over a hoisting beam, and the culprit drawn up.

The lynching took place within less than two hundred feet of where the negro Hilliard was burned several years ago for the murder of a white woman living a few miles from Tyler, and many of the same people who participated in the burning then were participants and witnesses to today's lynching. The public square was packed with people, and all were content to see the negro fiend meet his fate.

Some Additional Details.

(Herald Special.)

Tyler, Texas, May 1.—Miss Winnie Harmon, age about eighteen years, the daughter of Mr. C. Harmon, living two miles from Tyler, was assaulted last night by a negro named Jim Hodges. The negro tied the young lady's hands behind her and left her that way. The matter was reported to officers and Sheriff Wig Smith arrested the negro at the home of another negro four and one-half miles from the city, and brought him to the city and locked him in the county jail. The young lady this morning was brought to the city and at once picked Hodges out from the other negroes. When the news spread that Hodges had been identified by his victim, a big mob broke into the jail and took the negro out and lynched him. The mob got into the jail at 11:15, and Hodges was swung up at noon. The body was cut down at 12:45. When officers went to arrest Hodges an old negro tried to prevent them taking the young negro, and threw an axe at the sheriff twice. The mob did not know this until it had dispersed, or there might have been a double lynching. Miss Harmon is not dangerously injured, and is now at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Holly, near the jail. The negro was taken to her there for identification.

The two boys were returning from a hunting trip in a buggy, the gun lying in the bottom of the vehicle. When about two miles from town the weapon was accidentally discharged, either from jolting or one of the boys tripping the trigger with his foot. The full load of shot entered the boy's side, near the shoulder, and slightly to the rear, tearing an ugly wound that required surgical attention. The wound is considered dangerous, and it will be several days before the full extent of the same can be determined.
